Webinar Description

Conflicting opinions in friction ridge examinations are inevitable events. Some agencies do not have a policy for resolving conflict; some that do have them are not very specific. How are examiners supposed to “see if they can resolve the conflict” if there are not specific recommendations and clear instructions for doing so? This webinar explores concrete methods for resolving conflict and deciding what to report. We will use case examples to illustrate specific scenarios and how to resolve them.

Learning Outcomes:

1. The attendee will be able to define conflict resolution.
2. The attendee will be able to identify critical research studies that demonstrate conflicting conclusions.
3. The attendee will be able to apply the Montani Method for identifying the source of the conflict.
4. The attendee will understand how differences in likelihood ratios lead to conflicting opinions.
5. The attendee will be able to describe different reporting mechanisms.
6. The attendee will be able to identify and locate sources for developing conflict resolution protocols.

Course Handout

You will receive an email link several days before class to download the handouts and supporting literature. If you are unable to access the link due to agency restrictions, the handouts will be available during the webinar for downloading as well.

Assessing Learning Outcomes (a.k.a Quiz):

In order to verify the learning outcomes have been achieved, there is a 20 question quiz via SurveyMonkey at the end of each webinar. Attendees must score a minimum of 70% in order to receive a training certificate for the webinar. Please note quizzes are open-book and poll questions are given during the webinar to prepare attendees for the quiz.
